Upcoming DUII Safety Enforcement

Tigard Police officers will be joining other law enforcement agencies this week for a DUII safety enforcement focused around the Saint Patrick's Day holiday.

As more bars and restaurants continue to open for in-person dining, officers want drivers to remember there's never an excuse for drunk driving.

As part of this high-visibility enforcement campaign, officers will be out looking for drivers who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol. This project is made possible thanks to federal grant funding for overtime hours from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, which are distributed by the Oregon Department of Transportation and managed by Oregon Impact.

Drivers who choose to celebrate with alcohol or other substances should pick a designated driver, call a cab or make other arrangements for the safety of themselves and everyone else on the road.
